The Kilanea Hou struck on the reef at Kona on her last trip. Her false keel was wrenched off and probably other damage done. Divers were employed to look at her bottom, but could not ascertain the full extent of the injuries. She will go on the marine railway this afternoon to be examined.

The Bk Ceylon, Capt Barstow arrived yesterday afternoon, 27 days from Port Townsend with 940 tons of coal from Nainai to Messrs Allen & Robinson.

A DISGUSTING CASE.

In the Police Court this morning a young man named James Caswell, who has been employed at the foundry for some time past, was charged with assault on a Portuguese girl under seven years of age. The affair took place in Fowler's yard, and the details are of too disgusting a nature to be produced in our columns. A number of witnesses, including the little girl and a medical man, were called. The defendant made a short statement followed by Mr. Russell, who appeared for him. His Honor, in sentencing the defendant, said it was a fortunate thing for him the charge had been modified. He was clearly guilty of the charge. In former times the sentence under the present charge included whipping, and His Honor wished it did now. He should impose the heaviest sentence the law allowed, namely, six months' imprisonment at hard labor.

LUNING VS. LEDERER.

The arguments in the case of Luning vs. Lederer and Rosenberg were heard this morning, before Justice Bickerton. Mr. Whiting on behalf of the plaintiff, and Mr. Russell for the defendant. His Honor, in giving judgment, went into the case in great detail, occupying fully three-quarters of an hour in delivery. Judgment was given in favor of Lederer, the defendant. Costs $9.65. As regards J. L. Rosenberg, it appears that he had been adjudicated a bankrupt, and the Court does not pass on his liability in this case. No service was made on him, but he appeared by counsel. According to the statutes only 2 1/2 percent interest can be charged, but on the notes in question Luning had charged at the rate of 125 percent, and as the action was brought on this note, on account of usury it was void, and judgment given for the defendant. If the action had been brought in another form, it might be different. The defendant noted an appeal to the Supreme Court.

THE FUNERAL.

The funeral obsequies of the late Dowager Queen Emma will take place to-morrow. The order of procession will be found in to-day's paper, the only change from the original one being that the officers, sailors and marines from H. I. R. M.'s Dlight will be substituted for those from the U. S. S. Hartford, the latter having left the port. At 12:30 the Rev. H. H. Parker will deliver a short eulogy over the remains at the church, by request of His Majesty the King. At 1 o'clock the funeral services will commence in charge of the Bishop and clergy of the Anglican Church. At 2 o'clock the procession will start, and proceed through King street to Nuuanu Avenue, thence to the Royal Mausoleum.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Yesterday afternoon about four o'clock, Mr. E. R. Miles, one of the proprietors of the Hawaiian Hotel Stables, was driving into town on King street, and leading another horse behind his buggy with a rope. When near Mr. J. F. Brown's residence, the animal being led suddenly dashed ahead and came in contact with the carriage. This startled the horse attached to the carriage and the result was that the latter had two wheels badly damaged. Mr. Miles fortunately held control over the animal in the shafts, while the other one started off to town at a lively pace. Mr. Miles escaped unhurt.

YOSEMITE SKATING RINK.

This popular resort was re-opened last evening, after undergoing enlargement and other necessary improvements, such as adding a ladies' dressing room, more seats and a stand for the band. The interior was very beautifully decorated with Hawaiian and American flags and evergreens, and on one side of the building was the word, "Yosemite" in evergreens. The whole effect was very pretty. Every precaution has been taken by Mr. Wall as to ventilation and the comfort of his patrons. The rink was crowded last evening when, at eight o'clock, the grand march commenced. A detachment of the Royal Hawaiian Band was present and discoursed excellent music.

THE CHURCHES.

The usual services at 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. will be held at St. Andrew's Cathedral to-morrow.

At Fort Street Church, "A Fatal Choice" will be Mr. Cruzan's Sunday morning theme. Last lecture to young men on "An Uncrowned King" in the evening. A cordial welcome for all. Meeting for Bible study at 6:30.

At the Bethel Union Church the Sunday School will meet at a quarter to ten. At 11 o'clock the Rev. E. C. Oggel will preach on the subject, "Hearing and Doing." In the evening, 7:30, the sermon will be the fourth of the series on the Lord's Prayer, "Thy will be done on earth, as it is done in heaven."

A GOOD MEMORY.

A little incident has come to our notice which will show how hard Mr. Rutledge, manager of the Dramatic Company, worked to please the public. He had numerous requests to produce "Hazel Kirke," so sent for the play. It did not come, so one morning he sat down, and late that same evening he had it all written out from memory. Considering that Mr. Rutledge had only played in it three times previously, he accomplished a feat which is a little remarkable.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY MORNING.
Ah, Look for violating express rule No. 2, was fined $5 and costs. Keone Ailama deserted his wife but the parties were reconciled in Court. Sing Chew, for selling liquor without a license, was discharged. The same man and Ang Goo were also discharged on a charge of attempting to bribe a police officer. Kanakale, for deserting contract service, was ordered to return to employers and pay costs $3.

ENCOURAGE HOME INDUSTRY.

Mr. J. W. Hingley, former proprietor of the Pioneer Cigar Factory, No. 59 Fort street, and more recently at No. 84, King street, is now established at the Central Park Skating Rink, where he keeps a fine assortment of choice cigars and tobacco, and furnishes a delicious article of soda water. Mr. Hingley, also, has re-commenced the manufacture of his famous brands of cigars, at his residence on Beretania street, second door from Alapai street, adjoining the premises of Mr. Thomas E. Wall. Orders left at the Crystal Soda Works, No. 69, Hotel street, or sent by Mutual Telephone, No. 319, Central Park Skating Rink, will receive prompt attention. 1019 1m

THE JAPANESE.

EMIGRATION TO HAWAII AND CRIMINAL LAWS.

Among the prominent passengers on the steamer City of Sydney, which arrived here on Tuesday, was Thos. D. Van Buren, for eleven years the United States consul general in Japan. The general is a California pioneer, having come to San Francisco in February, 1849, on the California, the first steamer that ever entered the Golden Gate.

"Come in; very glad to meet you," was the general's cordial greeting, as a reporter of The Chronicle entered his apartments at the Palace yesterday. "The steamer Tokio, upon which I traveled from Yokohama to Honolulu, carried nine hundred Japanese passengers, who were landed at the latter place. The residents and plantation-owners of the Hawaiian Islands have become thoroughly disgusted with the Chinese laborers, and their places upon the plantations and as household servants are being taken by the Japanese. The nine hundred are only a first installment. About one-tenth of the immigrants are women, most of whom are married. It is an interesting movement, and was originated by ex-Consul General Irwin, of the Sandwich Islands, who hopes to bring over one thousand or fifteen hundred more during the next month. Those who immigrate from Japan have their passage paid, are guaranteed employment for three years, and at the end of that time have the privilege of remaining or returning to Japan, to which place their passages are also paid. The Japanese government protects its subjects in a thorough manner, and you can not employ a servant there unless an agreement is signed and permission obtained from the government officials."

"Upon your last arrival in Yokohama did you not present copies of codes of California given to you by Judge John C. Burch, of this city, to the Japanese government?"

"Yes, but of what use they were to that government I am not aware. Their codes of civil procedure have not as yet been formulated. Their criminal laws are similar to those used by the French. For instance, when an accused person is upon trial a regular form of set questions are asked by the judge, which in this country would appear exceedingly ridiculous. Then, again, there is no latitude left whereby a judge may use his discretion in passing sentence upon a criminal, as the punishments for every degree of crime are distinctly set forth in the criminal code. Several movements have been made by leaders of the government to have a number of foreign judges appointed, who may try the offenses committed by foreigners, and from whose judgments there can be no appeal. Nothing definite has been done in this direction, but if a number of judges of that kind were appointed I think it would prove highly satisfactory, especially to the foreign element. The Japanese laws in regard to religion have recently been greatly moderated, and at the present time residents can follow any religion or belief that may be most acceptable to them. This is a great step in the advance of civilization, and indicates the rapid strides Japan is making in that direction."

Gen. Van Buren will remain in this city about ten days, at the end of which time he will visit Paso Robles springs, after which he will make a visit to Highland springs and Monterey. In answer to a question in reference to his present trip to California and the intended one to Washington, he said: "I am here solely for my health. I do not know whether I would accept the consul-generalship to Japan, if reappointed, or not. At all events I think I shall put in my resignation. I have been in the government service so long that I am actually tired out. When I first went to Japan I expected to remain only a year, but that year swelled to eleven. As the Irishman said, 'If I had known I was going to be there so long I would not have gone at all.'"
—San Francisco Chronicle.

A Georgia farmer rented some land last year to a colored man for a third of the crop. A severe drought cut the crops short and the negro gathered only two bales of cotton and two wagon loads of corn. The latter was stored and the cotton sold.

When the landlord called for his share he was told that there was none for him. He asked, in surprise, "Didn't I rent you my land for a third of the crop?" "Yes, boss," said the darkey, "but you see, dere was no third. Dere was only two bales of cotton and two loads of corn; all mine and nuffin' for you by de contract." And the landlord could not make Cuffee believe any other way. He left the premises, saying: "No rascal can make me say dat two am three, nairy time."

An impatient postmaster, who some time ago tendered his resignation, wrote to the Department: "I warn you now that if you don't relieve me by next Saturday night I'll pack up this concern and ship it down to Washington by express, C. O. D."

The Chinese have built an immense bridge over an arm of the Chinese sea, at Lagang. It is five miles long, built entirely of stone, has three hundred arches, each 70 feet high, and has a roadway 70 feet wide.

New Orleans was the scene of a terrible tragedy on the 24th of April. A policeman's wife and a grocery clerk were both shot dead in bed. The policeman asserts that he found them in bed together dead when he came in from his night's watch.

A young Knaek of Johette, Quebec, while drunk, choked his mother to death. He will probably be choked in a more humane and scientific manner.
